

READING SUPPORT:

Students identified through MAP testing and classroom assessment as needing additional support in reading may meet with our Reading Support Specialist.

In reading support, we use the Orton-Gillingham method of instruction to work with students who are not performing at grade level. Students meet with the reading specialist 3-5 times per week throughout the year to receive instruction using a prescriptive approach, individually designed with each student's unique challenges in mind, to help them achieve success in reading.
